BURTONVILLE.

I thought I would send a few lines to THE LEDGER concerning the "rally" of W. H. Thomas and his little band. We have four of the most polished Democratic politicians in the state. They are W. H. Thomas, (some call him Crazy Bill) Walter Rayburn, Roman Barber and Thomas Barber. Bill told the boys we must have a big time, so he sent to Elwood, Ind., for four tin horns made to order, one was to be eighteen feet long, one twelve feet, one eight feet and one six feet. Bill says "I will blow the big one," and it was a blow, too. The pipes came in a few days before the rally, and the boys practiced carefully. They could play everything but "Dixey." Bill sent for a gallon of Milt Russell's best, but judging from the effects it must have been the worst. He then sent two of the boys to Tollesboro for cannons and anvils. They came, and the night before some one, supposed to be Alliance, took them, so they had to use shooting crackers and toy pistols. Bill said to his band, "We must get a gray uniform, Prince Albert, for we will all get office now." He also said, "I expect the appointment to England, and you boys will get an office some where about the White House."

Well, the parade commenced with the four tin horns in front, Bill with the larger one, and of all the blowing! They marched up to Dodd and took a little more steam on it. It finally taken three men to carry Bill. They marched down to Bill's store, and when they stopped he said: "All these pipes are wrong; they won't play 'Dixey.' Blow, boys; they'll play 'Dixey' or blow hell out of 'em." So they did blow; they stood and blew until their Prince Albert coat tails stood straight out. Bill's eyes popped out about an inch. W. Rayburn blew until the blood settled in the end of his nose, Roman Barber blew until his head turned white; and little Tom blew himself out, and they all blew until they fell and parted.

A Reliable Man.

M. J. Griner, a Justice of the Peace at Print, Mich., says one bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy saved his life. He had been down with bloody flux for three weeks when he commenced using this medicine. It soon cured him, and he believes saved his life. He also says it saved the lives of three railroad men in that vicinity. Griner is a reliable and conscientious man, and whatever he says can be depended upon. The Emerson Piano.

The Emerson Piano Company of Boston, Mass., and 92 Fifth Avenue, New York, have had a long and successful experience in the manufacture of pianos, and have attained an enviable reputation. These pianos are of the very finest tone and of the best material and workmanship, and are sold at moderate prices and on reasonable terms. As a general thing a person buys a piano but once in a lifetime, and it is, therefore, very important that the instrument should combine as many desirable features of a permanent character as possible. Manufacturers of good reputation and of long standing should be the favored ones. The Emerson Piano Company have made and sold upward of sixty thousand pianos; and they warrant every instrument sent from their factory. They will send to any of our readers who may be thinking of purchasing a piano, their illustrated catalogue free of charge; and it will be found to be an interesting publication.
